

HS Lesson 1 Student Worksheet A

Our School's Ecosystem

Our school is a sort of ecosystem, where living and nonliving things interact. Let's think about the population size of the students in our school ecosystem and how that affects the other parts of the system.

What do you, as a student, need to be comfortable at school?
Rank those factors in order of importance.
Do you think your school currently has too many, too few, or about the right amount of students? How do you know?
What would happen if your student population doubled?
